PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION.

The Louisiana Returning Board.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 24.—In the returning board East Baton Rouge was taken up and it was found that only seven of the fourteen polling places were returned. This is a violation of the law which requires them all to be returned within 48 hours. Many affidavits charging intimidation accompanied the returns, but they were sworn to later than was allowed by law. The total vote as ascertained from commissioners, at polling places was 2,238 for Tilden, and 1,616 for Hayes; but the supervisor of registration, by consolidating the returns from only seven polling places, leaving out the other seven, and omitting to send the original returns from the same, makes a return of only 1,102 votes for Tilden and 1,477 for Hayes. Affidavits have been filed stating that the supervisor in this parish and in every other parish in the State is a Republican, and that the returns from fourteen parishes are still out, but in the hands of improper persons. Until the returns of East Baton Rouge was opened the Democrats did not know what affidavits accompanied it or returns from what polling places were rejected. The Democrats complain bitterly of the action of the board and supervisors in regard to this parish. Finally these returns were laid aside. The only parish finished to-day, St. Martin, gave Tilden 1,023; Hayes 1,037. Counsel for the various candidates submitted a protest, alleging that this board canvasses only the vote for Governor and electors, and that all other returns are handed over to the clerks to canvass. The clerks are all Republicans, and conservative candidates protest against their fate being entrusted to them, without any check being placed upon them, and ask permission to name three respectable persons who may be present in the room where the tabulation is progressing, and may compare the tabulation with the returns. The board adjourned.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 25.—The returning board met at 11:30. Present, for the Republicans, Stoughton, Van Allen, Wilson, Kelly and Parker; for the Democrats, Palmer, Trumbull, G. B. Smith, Bigler and Julian. The minutes having been read, Judge Spofford suggested an order for the production of the minutes. Governor Wells said the entry would be made in the minutes to be adopted. Governor Wells stated he must dispense with the reading of any protests or motions before the board; that all evidence must be in before the close of the coming week or the board would not be able to get through with its deliberations.

Colonel Zacharie inquired whether the board had determined to fill the vacancy, as it was more necessary to have a representative on the board towards the close of its deliberations than at any other time.

Governor Wells stated the board had never taken any action on the matter.

Colonel Zacharie asked if the board had passed upon any of the applications.

Governor Wells said there had only been one presented, that relative to Dr. Kennith. Governor Wells intimated the Democrats had lost any claim to representation on the board by Mr. Arrago's resignation. He said the board will try to fill the vacancy if it could agree on any one.

Colonel Zacharie stated the board on Friday had instructed an officer, but the officer had declined to do so on account of being so ordered by the board.

Gov. Wells replied that the board did not consider they had any right to take the papers during the absence of the supervisor.

Col. Zacharie said he could produce an affidavit to the effect that returns from Franklin parish and other Democratic parishes had been several days in the office of the Southern express.

Gov. Wells said they had failed to take them out on the ground that he would not pay the express charges. The legislature had failed to make an appropriation and members of the board were unwilling to risk their own means when their warrants were thirty cents on the dollar.

Col. Zacharie said the Democrats would defray expenses.

Gov. Wickliffe remarked that the expenses only amounted to 75 cents.

Col. Zacharie having offered to furnish the clerk with means to pay the expense, the board mildly consented to the returns being taken out of the express office. Col. Zacharie asked if the board had come to any conclusion relative to the use of certified copies of duplicate returns with the clerk of courts, in cases where the supervisors failed to make their returns to the board.

Gov. Wells replied in the negative.

Col. Zacharie suggested that this question would come up in the Baton Rouge case, then under consideration, and he thought some action should be taken.

Gov. Wells suggested the point would be taken under advisement and answered on Monday.

With regard to sending for ballot boxes for East Baton Rouge, Col. Zacharie stated, unless the necessary telegram was sent to-day, the supervisor, with the boxes, would be unable to arrive in time, as he must catch the Sunday morning boat in order to do so.

Gen. Wells said it would be done.

Mr. McGlain asked if the committee would be accorded the privilege of cross-interrogations as to the testimony of Claver, supervisor of East Baton Rouge, and the corroborative affidavits, and enquired if the board would order corroborative witnesses to be present Monday.

Gov. Wells replied he could not communicate with them.

Mr. McGlain stated the witnesses were probably in the city.

Gov. Wells stated the privilege of finding cross-interrogatories would be allowed, but proceedings of the board would not be obstructed under any consideration. He said further notice would be taken of affidavits presented by both sides, but adhered to the ruling that affidavits should have been filed within a day after making up the returns.

Mr. Gonthreaux asked if protests would be entertained after returns had been sent to clerks for computation.

Gov. Wells answered in the negative, and said in the case of Natchitoches parish the supplemental report had come with the returns, but had been overlooked.

Considerable discussion ensued on the filing of affidavits after the case had come up, it being stated by Col. Zacharie that a great pile of affidavits, &c., had been filed in East Baton Rouge Saturday morning.

Col. Zacharie desired to know if there was not some limit to the filing of affidavits; otherwise the Democrats' counsel would be unable to answer when the testimony for the other side was all in.

To this Wells made no definite answer; only that time would be given to get up testimony and cross interrogatories.

Gen. Anderson read a letter from Gov. McEnery asking correction of the statement made Friday that Gov. McEnery had voted for the Wilde swamp claim. Gen. Anderson said he had done the gentleman injustice, and read from the senate journal of 1867 showing McEnery had voted against the claim.

The board then went into executive session and took up the parish of West Feliciana.

In executive session the board called for returns and announced the vote from consolidated statements: DeSoto, Hayes 898; Tilden 1,305; Ouachita, Hayes 793, Tilden 1,820; Lincoln, Hayes 331, Tilden 1,061; East Feliciana, Hayes none, Tilden 1737; West Feliciana, Hayes 778, Tilden 1,249; Richland, Hayes 277, Tilden 970; Caddo, Hayes 2,680, Tilden 1,651; Sabine Hayes 23, Tilden 906. The votes of these parishes were not canvassed, being contests fixed for hearing next week. When returns from parishes marked contested were opened Democratic counsel were allowed to be present. The returns from DeSoto parish were brought in and contained in one package sealed with wax. When the seals were broken by members of the board there were found inside consolidated votes, the commissioner's statement and tally sheets attached to the returns, and a large number of protests and affidavits which the secretary of the board said were received here on the 18th, but it was discovered one of them was dated 25th, to-day. In explanation of this he said he had received two packages. One of the Democratic counsel present detected him in the act of making another entry on his book of another package received. Another package was produced containing consolidated returns, but no protests. Members of the committee being unable to explain the matter, Senator Sherman, Republican, said it was useless attempting to disguise that the returns had been opened and protests inserted. Here was quite a sensation. The Democrats openly charged fraud and the Republicans didn't deny that the affair had a peculiar aspect. Democratic counsel claim similar things have occurred before to-day, when they were not admitted to discuss frauds.

No Republican Counsel before the Board.

The Tribune's New Orleans special says: No Republican attorney has yet appeared before the board, and Republicans have very little to say, forming a remarkable contrast to the Democrats whose talk is interminable.

The Secretary Explains.

The Tribune's correspondent says the secretary of the canvassing board easily and fully explained the inconsistency of the DeSoto returns which were received earlier than the affidavits which they contained were dated.

The South Advised to Prepare for Another Struggle.

The Morning Star, a leading Republican paper, advises the South to prepare for another struggle, and never submit to the seating of Packard.

The Omitted Electors.

The Times New Orleans special says the question of what disposition would be made by the State canvassers of tickets which bear only the names of part of the Hayes electors, about which there has been so much discussion, has been finally settled by members of the board. They have announced they will count only those votes which were actually cast, that is to say, they will not assume, as they were advised to do, that the ticket bearing the names of Hayes and Wheeler and two electors at large should be counted for the district electors whose names were omitted from it. By this wise and just decision they have spiked another Democratic gun and forced from a number of prominent Democrats, the confession that all their proceedings thus far have been perfectly fair and honest. Regarding the Nachitoches tickets from which it was at first believed that names of two of the Hayes electors had been omitted, it was discovered this morning that the tickets had been accurately printed and bore the names of all the electors, but the supervisors of the polls had made a mistake in the returns. If the tickets were as is now stated, and the mistake was made by the supervisors, the majority for Hayes will be increased about 400 votes.

The South Carolina Muddle.

COLUMBIA, Nov. 24.—The court convened at 4 P. M. In response to a rule issued at the morning session, to the board of canvassers to show cause why they should not be attached for contempt in refusing to obey its mandate issued on Wednesday, U. S. district attorney Corbin, counsel for the board, introduced an affidavit asking for further time, but he refusing to indicate their defense or assure the court they would obey its mandamus, no further time was allowed. Counsel for the relators was instructed to draw the order, but as a recital of all the proceedings was required as a preface to the order to commit the board for contempt, they requested until to-morrow morning to file it. The court said they hoped the board would, in the morning, obey its mandate and purge the contempt. If they do not, they will be committed to jail. Counsel for the relators then moved that a peremptory mandamus issue to H. Payne, Secretary of State, to issue certificates to all members of the general assembly, including the counties of Edgefield and Laurens, in accordance with the order of court of Wednesday's session. Associate Justice Willard said the relators ought not to pray this at this state of the proceedings, as Payne was now in contempt and the court had no assurance he would obey, as he had disobeyed their mandate already, intimating that counsel ought therefore to await the result of the rule before moving this order.

Judge Willard said: Here we have just made a solemn decision, in which he (Payne) is a party as a member of the board of State canvassers and Secretary of State. If the order in that case, directed to him as well as to others on the board, had been obeyed, this question would not have arisen. As the case now stands, an incident has occurred, rare in the history of civilized society. Men clothed with civil authority of limited character, subject to the courts of the land, have placed themselves in defiance of the highest court in South Carolina, and are now jeopardizing the security of justice and the security of peace. They are in the attitude of defiance, not only against abstract law, but against its embodiment in this court. They have brought political death for a moment upon the State and upon the nation. They hold in their hands a firebrand and they have applied it to the whole structure that covers us, while they are thus standing, defying the power of this court. We are now gravely considering the question of issuing another mandate to another of this board. I cannot believe that when these gentlemen come to consider, when they come to night to ask favor and ask protection of their God, and when they recall the sanctity of their oaths of office, I do not believe they will longer resist the power of this court. This court is clothed with majesty. We do not speak in the voice of men, we speak in judgment, and judgment is the voice of God. Every legal power will be exhausted by the court to compel from them what their conscience does not yield; and whatever loyalty, fealty and justice there is in the community will be exerted to compel, by force, what conscience does not yield. What are we doing? What reason have we for believing that this order will be obeyed any more than others? What reason have we to believe the defiance will cease? We should take into consideration all the bearings of the question. The action of this board, in my opinion, will do more to call up a generous spirit in the people and forgetful of partisanship, to cause them to unite upon the high ground of justice and truth, than anything that has been done in the history of the country since its first origin.

The court meets to-morrow at 10 o'clock.

U. S. District Attorney Corbin, counsel for the board of canvassers, disclaimed any intention of contempt, and asked until Monday to satisfy the court; granted. The court is now occupied with argument on the electoral vote.

COLUMBIA, Nov. 25.—The Supreme Court this morning took the order under advisement, requiring the board of State canvassers to make comparison of returns of county canvasses and returns of precinct managers in cases of presidential electors, and will give decision Monday. The court decided to issue an order giving certificates to members of the legislature, from Edgefield and Laurens counties, refused by the board, but stated that such members could obtain a copy of the record from the clerk of the court, which would be equivalent to a certificate.

Fine and Imprisonment of the Board of Canvassers.

COLUMBIA, Nov. 25.—The supreme court has just entered judgment of $1,500 fine each and commitment of all the members of the board of canvassers to jail until released by order of the court. The court is now proceeding with the case against U. S. District Attorney Corbin, counsel for the board, for contempt. There is considerable suppressed excitement.

The five members of the board of canvassers arrested this morning, reported at jail this evening where they are now confined. Their names are F. L. Cardoza, treasurer; T. C. Dunn, comptroller; Gen. Wm Stone, attorney general; H. C. Payne, secretary of state, and H. W. Purvis, ex adjutant and inspector general, comprising the board of canvassers.

The Imprisoned Returning Board.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The Herald's Columbia special, speaking of the returning board, says: The correspondent has interviewed nearly all of them. He said they were there, and were endeavoring to make themselves comfortable. They seem to be agreed that there was no coming out to-night, but equally sure that out they would get, and that very soon. Secretary of State Page maintained that the law was on their side and they were determined not to recede from their position. One of them said: "We won't purge worth a cent."

The South Carolina Conflict.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The Times says editorially: The inevitable conflict of authority between State officers of South Carolina and the Supreme Court was advanced several steps nearer yesterday. In judging of the merits of this controversy, it is well to remember that the court has from the first been the aggressor. In consenting to argue about its powers before that tribunal, the returning board may have given some color to the perfectly unjustifiable usurpation, but such action could not affect the fact that the board is an entirely independent jurisdiction, empowered to discharge certain duties prescribed by law which the court might be called on to interpret, but which it had no power to set aside. The court undertook to reduce the members of the returning board, to the position of its clerks, but it overreached itself. Now it has undertaken to proceed with the canvass of the vote of South Carolina as if all the functions of the returning board had been transferred to Justices Moses and Willard. Disregarding the decision of the board on the vote of Laurens and Edgefield counties, it contemplates ordering the Secretary of State to order certificates of election to members of the legislature fraudulently and forcibly returned from these two counties, and has adjudged members of the board in contempt of court. It is in fact attempting to take into its hands the executive and legislative as well as the judicial functions of the government of South Carolina.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The Times' Washington correspondent, speaking of South Carolina affairs, believes Judge Bond, of U. S. District Court, will open court and grant writs in favor of members of the board, and they will be released. This is believed to be right and legal. Judge Bond cannot of course be ordered by the President or anybody else to open his court, and will probably do so of his own volition. Of course his action will be sustained.

The Times' Columbia special says the State can only be secured for Tilden through Hampton. One part of the play was to keep the board of canvassers in session until after the meeting of the legislature and inauguration of Hampton; then a new board of canvassers, all Democrats, would take up and complete the work left undone by the old board. To accomplish this the court gravely hinted that whatever time was occupied by the court in reaching its conclusions, would not count in the ten days allowed the board by statute, in which to complete their work—a suggestion repugnant to every legal mind. If this plan had succeeded, the result is clear; but thanks to the board of canvassers and their advisers, the plot failed. Very little excitement in the city, but intense anxiety as to what may happen Tuesday when the legislature meets. The Democrats assert that ten thousand armed men will be in the city.

The Herald's Washington special says the opinion was expressed by several lawyers of the cabinet party, at its recent session, and is still entertained, viz: that the supreme court of South Carolina has no jurisdiction in the premises, and has no right to direct the imprisonment of canvassers for contempt. Members of the cabinet and other leading Republican politicians say to-day that the court has exceeded its authority, and its judges may possibly find themselves in trouble, should they not abide by the settlement supposed to be under way.

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—A Tribune's Washington special says: The indications are that the Democrats will attempt to inaugurate Hampton governor next Tuesday, and the Republicans will acknowledge Chamberlain. The General Government will doubtless be asked to decide between the two. The President will continue to recognize Chamberlain and a few more troops may be concentrated at Columbia. Violence is hardly anticipated. U. S. Judge Bond will probably release the returning board on habeas corpus. Chief Justice Carter says the State board is not subject to State court. It is reported here that Judges Moses and Willard are greatly exasperated at the board. Judge Willard was once partner of Peter B. Sweeney of the Tammany ring, and always a Democrat until he found the negroes useful as voters to put him in office. Willard's brother, a Tammany Democrat, represents Tilden's interest at Columbia.

Republicans find that by merely adding up the returns made by the county canvassers, all the Hayes electors are shown as being elected. The Democrats claim that precinct returns are also in the hands of the State board, showing miscounts and illegal counts; that the returning officers counted the precinct of Sheldon in Beaufort county, which don't exist, but which shows 450 Republican majority, and that they also counted votes which are shown by the precinct returns to have been cast for Hayes and Wheeler as if they had been cast for each one of the Republican electors, when in fact and in law they were not so cast at all. The difference against the Democrats made by this count aggregate from 1,300 to 1,500 votes, and if corrected, will elect several Tilden men—probably all of them.

The Louisiana Game.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The World's Columbia special says: There seems to be no way out of the dead-lock, but an appeal to Federal powers, and the general impression is that troops will be called upon to play the Louisiana game. A feverish state of appearances pervades Columbia and fears of bloodshed are freely expressed.

Florida.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The Times' Tallahassee special, speaking of the proceedings before the court, says the gist of this whole matter lies in the fact that the Democrats set up a man of straw for the purpose of knocking him down. They wish to enjoin Governor Stearns from canvassing the returns, and have made allegations that he intends or may intend to do so when his solemn oath is before this court that he never intended, and does not intend to do any such thing. His duty is clear, under the law, but the Democrats are attempting to have the country believe that Gov. Stearns threatens to do some great wrong, to violate the law, and to canvass the returns for presidential electors alone and in defiance or in despite of the canvassing board. Nothing can be more glaringly false. It is the duty of the Governor to ascertain and declare the result from the board of canvassers, and thereupon to forthwith issue his certificate to the duly elected candidates. This is all; yet the Democrats thought they could raise a breeze in the North by charging corrupt intention upon the Republican governor, and by rushing the matter into the courts and getting their injunction against an act which the executive would never perform, create a furor in the country, in the confusion of which they might go on more securely in their infamous work. Whether the judge grants an injunction or not it is plain that the Democrats are beaten again at their own game. Evidence of fraud, bribery and violence on the part of the Democrats in a large number of counties is accumulating. Details are startling in many instances, and will show the country, when revealed, how cruel and how perfect the machinery of injustice the Democrats put in motion. It is believed returns from all the counties will be in by the first of next week. Leading Democrats here now do not claim the State for Tilden with much earnestness. At present the hope is to carry the State ticket at most, and trust to some Democratic providence in the electoral college for Tilden's last chance.

A telegram just received from Gainesville states that a Republican messenger to the southern counties was driven back by Democratic reformers by force and violence. There is much excitement in consequence.

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 25.—The Secretary of State, ex member of the board of canvassers, charged with calling them together, notified them this morning to meet at noon on Monday to canvass the vote of the State. The injunction and mandamus cases are still undecided, and if the board of canvassers vote no action will be necessary. The board will admit a committee of five Democrats and five Republicans and the chairmen of the two State committees. The returns are all in but the result will hardly be reached before the 6th of December, the legal limit.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The Times has the following: Hon. Wm. H. Robertson of Winchester, returned home from Tallahassee yesterday, whither he had gone at the request of the President, in company with several other gentlemen from New York, to see that the canvass of electoral returns in Florida was fairly conducted. He was obliged to leave Florida before the canvass was commenced, indeed, before the returns from all the counties had been received at the capitol. He states, however, that from what he was able to learn before his departure, he has no doubt when the vote is canvassed, it will appear to all fair-minded men of both parties that the Republicans have carried the State by a fair majority. Gov. Stearns, he says, never contemplated canvassing the vote for electors himself, though had he done so, it would have simply been in accordance with precedent. Four years ago the Governor canvassed the vote and no objection was made from any quarter. The board of State canvassers is composed of gentlemen who are held in high esteem by their neighbors, and consists of two Republicans and one Democrat. He has no doubt that they will count the vote fairly and in accordance with the laws and facts. Florida is a Republican State beyond peradventure on a fair vote and honest count. During Robertson's stay in Tallahassee, many instances of outrageous treatment of colored men were brought to his notice. These will, no doubt, be set forth before the board of canvassers. The high character of Judge Robertson, his love of justice, and his well known impartiality and fairness, entitle his opinions to the great weight with which they will undoubtedly be everywhere received.

The Herald's Tallahassee special says Manton Marble denies positively that he conceded the State to Hayes in conversation with Gov. Stearns. On the contrary he is perfectly sure that the Democrats have carried the State. The Democrats here are in receipt of scores of telegrams from all parts, North and West, urging them to stand firm and declaring that they shall be backed to the very utmost. The West, especially seems to be excited. Both sides are confident of the result of the canvass beginning to-morrow.

The Times' Tallahassee special say: An illustration of the modes adopted by the Democrats here is given in the following resolutions, adopted in the county of Jefferson, printed copies of which were scattered profusely all over the county just previous to the election. The effect on the poor laboring class may be imagined:

First—That we pledge ourselves to each other by our sacred honor to give first preference in all things to those who vote for reform; that we give second preference to those who don't vote at all.

Second—We affirm the principle that they who vote for high taxes should pay them; and that in employing, or hiring or renting land to any such persons as vote for high taxes, that in all such cases distinction of 25 per cent. or one-quarter be made against such persons; that, merchants, lawyers and doctors, in extending credit to such persons, make the same distinction.

Third—That in all such cases we extend as little credit or use of our means as possible, leaving them to their chosen friends.

Fourth—That in the ensuing year we positively refuse to employ one out of every three who may then be on our places, who voted against law and reform taxes, and that a list of all such persons be published in the Constitution in order that we may know our friends from our enemies.

Fifth—We will consider it dishonorable and unneighborly for any farmer planter, merchant, lawyer, doctor or other person to violate any of the forgoing resolutions.

Republicans Stopped by Democratic Reformers.

The Times' Tallahassee special says Messrs. Webster and Hamblin, who went South from here a few days since to bring back evidence of Democratic frauds already established, were stopped in Sumter county by Democratic reformers. They were asked for passes from the Democratic State executive committee before being allowed to proceed. As they did not possess the requisite endorsement they were ordered to retreat, but not before being asked for any private papers in their possession. This attempt to rob them of their papers was frustrated.

The Defeated Dine Together.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25—A report says Gov. Hendricks, Gov. Tilden, ex-Gov. Curtin, Hon. Abram S. Hewitt and wife, and Mrs. Hendricks, dined with Hon. Peter Cooper to-night. Gov. Hendricks leaves for home to-morrow. The following statement was made by Gov. Hendricks: He didn't come for the purpose of holding a conference; he states that he is so perfectly convinced that the feeling of honest men throughout the country is so general that Tilden has been elected, and the sense of justice of the country, irrespective of party, is so strong, that corrupt canvassing boards of the South won't dare set public opinion at defiance; and if they do make the attempt they will fail in their purpose.

Hendricks on the Political Situation.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25—The Tribune says: In his interview with Gov. Tilden, Gov. Hendricks said public sentiment in the Western States in regard to the election was so strong he was impelled to come East to ascertain the condition of public feeling here. He expressed his admiration of the conduct of Southern Democrats, who, without manifestations of turbulence, had applied everywhere to the courts, and was glad, both in the West and on his journey hitherward, to notice the disposition of all parties to have matters amicably and lawfully settled. He felt that their cause was just and would ultimately triumph by the will of the American people. Gov. Tilden fully concurred with all of Gov. Hendricks' remarks, and there appeared to be a perfect accord of ideas in regard to the questions of the hour. While there seemed to be a lack of confidence in the doings of the returning boards in the South, no disposition was manifest on the part of those present or Governor Hendricks to enter upon a decisive plan of action.

Tilden and Hendricks.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26—Tilden and Hendricks had an hour's interview yesterday. The latter with his family left for home. He thinks the political situation is getting bright. The action of the Supreme Court yesterday in fining and committing the board of canvassers for contempt, he believes to be just, and it was encouraging as indicating that the Republican party or some of its members feel the weight of universal public opinion, demanding fairness and justice, and more markedly so because that this action is that of one of their own courts, and there is not the possibility of suspicion that the bench has been influenced in any way by the Democrats.

The Herald says: Speaking of the interview between Tilden and Hendricks, both Governors, after a careful review of the whole field, and a perfectly candid exchange of views bearing on every possible phase of the contest, have concluded not only that they are elected by a majority of the electoral vote, but also that they will be quietly and peacefully inaugurated. A gentleman who occupies a very high position in the party and was much with Governor Hendricks yesterday, said Hendricks is in excellent spirits, perfectly confident of being inaugurated on the 5th of March. He don't doubt but what the three disputed States will be counted for Hayes, but thinks this fraud cannot stand when Congress meets. Both Governors agreed that the Vice President has nothing to do with counting the votes, but simply opens them and that Congress alone counts the votes. The results of their legal examinations during the conference were convincing to their minds, but according to the constitution and practice of Congress, fraudulent returns of the three returning boards will be reversed by Congress, and their inauguration will follow in consequence. Hendricks was found to be in perfect accord with Tilden's steadfast position, which is to exhaust every legal and peaceable remedy to secure his rights, but to sternly discountenance every attempt at violence. Hendricks parted from Tilden in the most hopeful spirit.

A Washington special says: that Hendricks will succeed in his endeavor to restrain his more violent partisan Democrats is not doubted by prominent representatives of the party in this city, and in general happy results are expected to flow from this pleasant reunion.

Official Vote of New York.

ALBANY, Nov. 24.—The board of State canvassers completed their labors to-day. The votes cast for Presidential electors are: Democrats, Horatio Seymour, 522,508; Dewitt C. West, 522,612; Republicans, Abraham Parker, 489,521; William H. Seward, 489,547. Cast for Peter Cooper greenback electors, 1,987; and for Green Clay Smith electors, 2,357.

Official Vote of Georgia.

ATLANTA, Nov. 25.—Tilden's official majority in Georgia is 85,085.

The St. Louis Election Fraud.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 25.—Testimony in the Metcalf-Frost contested election case to-day, shows clearly that the returns were falsified in the county clerk's office, to cheat the Republican candidate.

The Speakership.

The St. Louis Republican editorially recommends Wm. R. Morrison for Speaker of the House of Representatives. It is thought here he will be candidate.

Another Republican Blunder.

The Democrats are trying to defeat one of the Republican electors in Pennsylvania, Samuel W. Starkweather, because of a slight mistake in printing on some of the tickets.

The Herald on the General Result.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The Herald editorially says whichever way the Presidential contest is decided the country will accept the result with general satisfaction and go about its business, which for the time has come to a stand still, and be glad that this excitement is over; but only on condition that Hayes or Tilden is fairly and honestly elected in a manner to satisfy all reasonable men, and that there has been an honest count.

LATEST DISPATCHES.

Latest from South Carolina.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—A Columbia dispatch states that Secretary of State Hayne claims that the board of canvassers has not disobeyed any order of court; that they complied with the only order received by them, which was to make a return of the number of votes received by all candidates at an election held on the 7th instant, and when the next order was served, to issue certificates to members of the legislature ascertained to have received the highest number of votes, the board had been functus officio eleven hours. They maintained that law was on their side, and that they were determined not to recede from their position.

A Washington dispatch states that one of the legal positions to be taken by the government will be that the board of commissioners of South Carolina are, in their discharge of duty, quasi federal officials so far as relates to their functions on passing upon votes for federal officers, in which category Presidential electors will be considered as being.

The Times' Columbia special says: To-morrow argument will be continued on the mandamus to compel the board of canvassers to recanvass the vote for Presidential electors, and to reject all irregular, imperfect and illegal polls, if any are found in precinct returns, and report action upon each case to the court for reviewal. This would be to make the court the board of canvassers, giving it power to accord with the determination of the board where it would help Tilden, and to mandamus the board to change its determination where its action was favorable to Hayes. Arguments last night on the part of the board was confined to the assertion that the board had completed its work; that it had ceased to exist, and that it could not be revived. It is confidently asserted, the court will grant the order and it is also confidently asserted that every member of the board will refuse to obey any order which will place them again in the power of the court. Judge Willard admits there may be doubts about the jurisdiction of the court, but says there is no court of reversal, and therefore its acts will be final.

The legislature meets Tuesday. Certificates have been issued to sixty Republicans in the House and fifty-five Democrats, and nine seats will be vacant, those of representatives from Edgefield and Laurens county, certificates having been refused to them. The Democrats assert that more than enough Republicans will be absent to give them a majority, and that the Democrats from Edgefield and Laurens will be admitted at once. If the Republicans are not all here, then the excluded members will demand to have their names called, and will enforce the demand. The Speaker will be elected and will declare the election of Hampton, and he will be inaugurated forthwith, although it has been unusual to do so on Thursday after the meeting of the legislature.

In reply to assertions of the Baltimore Sun Judge H. T. Bond has addressed a letter to the Baltimore American in which he denies that he has been a guest of Gov. Chamberlain, also that he has called upon him as he would do to the Governor of any State where he was about to hold Circuit Court, provided he was acquainted. He then says Gov. Chamberlain is too well bred a lawyer at such a time to mention to me any matter which might be the subject of judicial inquiry. The State canvassers have never been advised by me. I have never seen them. I would not know more than one of the board, and that one is the attorney general of South Carolina, whom I have formerly met as U. S. assistant district attorney. No one has yet applied to the circuit court of this district for any action in relation to the recent election. If any person does so apply, and there is statute for it, he shall have relief; if there is no statute, he must seek his remedy elsewhere.

Up to this time (8 P. M.) the five executive officers of the State remain in the county jail. They appear to be as comfortable as possible under the circumstances. They have two small rooms only, as the jail is crowded with a gang of election rioters, who are to be tried before the U. S. circuit court this week.

COLUMBIA, Nov. 26—It is understood that efforts will be made to have Judge Bond, U. S. judge, release the board of canvassers upon writ of habeas corpus. They are, however, still in jail, and no action of the character mentioned has yet been taken.

The President Sustains Chamberlain.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26—The following was sent from this city to-night:

To Gen. Thos. H. Ruger or Col. H. M. Black, Columbia.—The following has been received from the President:

EXECUTIVE MANSION, Nov. 26, 1876.

Hon. J. D. Cameron, Secretary of War.—D. H. Chamberlain is now Governor of the State of South Carolina beyond any controversy and remains so until the new Governor shall be duly and legally inaugurated under the Constitution. The government has been called upon to aid with the military and naval forces of the United States to maintain republican government in the State against resistances too formidable to be overcome by the State authorities. You are directed therefore to sustain Gov. Chamberlain in his authority against domestic violence until otherwise directed.

U. S. GRANT.

In obeying these instructions you will advise with the Governor, and dispose of your troops in such manner as may be deemed best, in order to carry out the spirit of the above order of the President. Acknowledge receipt.

J. D. CAMERON, Sec'y of War.

Anxious to Learn the Result.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26—The Times' New Orleans special says leading men of both political parties are becoming exceedingly anxious for the returning board to declare the result of the election in this State, and so settle the Presidential question one way or another. Many of the gentlemen of the two national committees came to New Orleans at short notice, expecting to stay a day or two. They have now been here two weeks, and their private affairs at home are suffering. For this reason, and to put the country out of suspense, members of the board have decided to hold a protracted session during the coming week, and they expect to conclude their labors on Friday or Saturday next. There are many indications that the apparent calm in this city is only on the surface, and all law abiding citizens will be greatly relieved when the board adjourns sine die.

Lines Down.

LAKE CITY, Fla., Nov. 26—The telegraph lines between this place and Tallahassee are prostrated and will not be in working order to-night.

Anxiety with Reference to the Oregon Postmaster.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26.—Private dispatches received from the East render it apparent that great interest is felt concerning the probable action of the Governor of Oregon on the question of issuing a certificate of election to Watts, elector on the Hayes and Wheeler ticket. Inquiry is urgent, both as to the course of the Governor and measures likely to be adopted by the Republicans in case a certificate is refused, or its issuance enjoined by the courts.

The body of a man named Henry Pelltier arrived in Oakland this evening for interment. He was killed Thursday last at Salsia creek, being run over by a train which was started while he was under the car making some small repairs.

THE EASTERN QUESTION.

The Approaching Conference.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—A Berlin dispatch to the News reports that Bismarck refused to receive Edhim Pasha, Turkish ambassador to Germany, who called to take leave before starting for Constantinople. The appointment of Edhim Pasha as plenipotentiary of Turkey at the conference, is considered to be unfavorable to peace, because he is known to be uncompromising in his views.

The Times, reviewing prospects of the conference, says specific proposals which will come before it, have been examined in every capital of Europe; the conclusion is universal that they present no insuperable obstacle to peace. Under the leadership of English and Russian plenipotentiaries, they may be so moulded as to command the support of every guaranteeing power and secure acceptance of the Porte.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—The Marquis of Salisbury arrived at Vienna yesterday. The Times' Berlin dispatch says the marquis hardly thinks the serious difficulties of the situation are diminished after his visit to Berlin, but has good hopes of an ultimate peaceful solution.

PARIS, Nov. 26.—Le Temps says England and Russia are agreed as to the character of the guarantees required, a trifling difference only existing on the subject of the occupation of Bulgaria.

Imperial Reception of the English Envoy.

VIENNA, Nov. 25.—The Marquis of Salisbury had an interview with Count Andrassy to-day and was afterwards received by Emperor Francis Joseph. The marquis leaves for Trieste Monday, 27th inst.

A dispatch from Vienna reports the Marquis of Salisbury declared in conversation there that England would not appear in the conference as an opponent in principle of Russia if she draw up her demands in a form to guarantee the rights of their hostile subjects in Turkey without destroying the sovereignty of the Porte. He would not regard it as a violation of that sovereignty if the Porte was to enter into certain engagements with Europe regarding the Porte's subjects, and the Powers were to co-operate in the introduction of guaranteed reforms.

Servian News.

A Vienna correspondent of the Times says the Servian minister issued a decree reorganizing the militia forces of Servia, which are divided into the active army and the reserve; the active army, consisting of regular infantry, militia of the first class and all cavalry, artillery and engineers, is divided into four corps. The resignation of the Servian ministry seems to be definitive. The present ministry will continue to carry on the administration of affairs provisionally. The new ministry will probably not be formed until the return of Marionovich from Russia.

Subscriptions to the Russian Loan.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 25.—Subscriptions in St. Petersburg and Moscow alone to the loan of a hundred million roubles, authorized by an imperial ukase of Nov. 18th, exceed that amount.

Russian Affairs.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 25.—An imperial ukase has been promulgated, providing that after the 1st day of January next, customs duties shall be payable in gold or coupons, negotiable abroad, and also relieving common carriers from the responsibility under contracts for the early delivery of merchandise interfered with by circumstances beyond their control.

Russian Naval Movements.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—The Russian squadron has sailed from Naples, destination unknown.

Germany Friendly to Russia.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—The Standard's dispatch from Berlin says while Russia does not interfere with German interests, Germany feels morally obliged to support Russia's claim at the coming conference. Should war be unavoidable Germany would not object to the invasion of Bulgaria by Russia.

Line of Demarcation.

A telegram from Ragusa states that the line of demarcation between the Turkish and Montenegrin armies is settled. The space between the belligerents is two kilometres wide.

Royal Birth.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—The Duchess of Edinburgh has been delivered of a daughter at Malta.

CENTRAL AMERICA.

Disastrous Inundation.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—The steamer from Aspinwall arrived to-night. Continued rains served to overflow the railroad track for miles. The pueblos along the line from Ystan to Matachin were inundated and the inhabitants forced to leave their dwellings. The last train to cross was on the 10th inst., and soon after telegraphic communication was broken, and not resumed for several days, though communication between Panama and Aspinwall had not been restored when the steamer sailed on the 17th. The inhabitants of Gatun had taken refuge in the church. The waters had risen in the houses more than five feet. Disastrous results of the freshet were feared at Buena Vista, which could not be reached.

An official letter has been directed to Senor Durdon Calvador, minister at Washington, to despatch him to communicate with the president of the Panama Transit and Pacific Mail Steamship Co., requesting him to arrange that all steamers between San Francisco and Panama shall touch at the port of La Liberta, on both up and down trips.

Subscriptions in aid of sufferers by the flood in Nicaragua had been opened in Salvador, and substantial assistance had been promised to them.

Nicaragua advices state that the storm was very severe. Considerable suffering exists, and efforts are making to alleviate the condition of those whom the floods have left houseless.

The cocoa interest appears to have suffered most heavily.

IDAHO ELECTION.

Returns of the election for delegate to Congress from Idaho are yet incomplete, but enough has been received to induce both parties to concede the re-election of Mr. Fenn. So far as we can now ascertain the counties reported show the following majorities:

Nez Perce	62
Idaho	133
Ada	94
Total	269

MAJORITIES FOR CLARK.

Shoshone	1
Owyhee	1
Boise	3
Total	5

Alturas county is claimed by the Statesman to be 50 majority for Clark. No returns from Bear Lake, Oneida or Lemhi counties. No one can tell what will be the returns from these counties, but basing estimates upon results of previous elections, it is generally conceded that all but Alturas will give majorities for Fenn, and some say sufficient to swell his majority to 600 or 700 in the Territory.—Lewiston Teller.

Since his arrival he has purchased a million ounces of fine silver and 300,000 ounces of ore silver, the latter to be delivered at the Carson mint. The amount of the sale is about $2,000,000, giving market rates. The sellers were Flood & O'Brien.

Wigginton will Contest.

It is reported that Wigginton will contest Pacheco's election in the Fourth Congressional district, though it does not not clearly appear what showing he intends to make in favor of a recount.

Postal Commission on its Travels.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 25.—The U. S. postal commission arrived here to-day via the Southern Pacific railway, and were met by a large delegation of citizens who answered all inquiries touching the resources and postal wants of Southern California. The commission proceeded this evening to the Southern terminus of the S. P. R. R., and will start homeward Monday, stopping here for several hours on their way.

Suicide.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26.—Alfred W. Buchanan, clerk in the auditing department of Wells, Fargo & Co., suicided last night by shooting himself at his residence, No. 634 Filbert street, near Powell, between 9 and 10 o'clock at night. Buchanan, his wife and mother-in-law, were seated at supper, and after it was concluded, Mrs. Buchanan and her mother went up to their rooms in the upper story, Buchanan soon followed them, and went into his mother-in-law's room, from which he took his revolver. He then went to his wife's room, where he placed the revolver to his right ear and fired. The report of the shot awoke his wife, who had lain on the bed, and she arose in time just to see him fall. Nothing is known of the cause which led Buchanan to commit the act.

The Turf.

At the Bay District course yesterday the trotting race, purse $300, mile heats three in five, was contested by Leviathan, Gen. Reno, Governor Stanford and Red Cross. The same horses trotted last Wednesday, Leviathan winning. She repeated her performance yesterday, coming in winner in three straight heats in 2:31½, 2:30½, 2:29.

Fire.

A fire last night in the store of Houghton & Co., dealers in wooden and willow-ware, and Callaghan & Co., manufacturers of Donnelly's yeast powder, Nos. 119 and 121 Front street, damaged the building and stock to the amount of $5,000; covered by insurance.

Fine Weather.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26.—It has been unusually quiet about town to-day, even for Sunday. The fine weather has tempted a great number of the inhabitants to various suburban resorts. This evening is as clear and warm as mid-summer.

NEVADA.

Prize Fighters in Trouble.

VIRGINIA CITY, Nov. 25.—A special venire has been issued for the grand jury to investigate the recent prize fight. Askew, one of the principles, and Noon, his second, jumped the town last night. Dublin Pete, Joe Farnsworth, Alex. Nixon and Tom Kean, were arrested yesterday and bailed out in the sum of $2,000 each. A survey of the county line has been ordered to ascertain if the fight was fought within 300 yards of Storey county. The match between Joe Farnsworth, Pete's second, and Chas. Noon, who acted for Askew, is, of course, off.

A Terrible Contest with an Insane Man.

AUSTIN, Nov. 25.—The Reveille of this evening contains the following: A man named James Cutleton, who arrived in this city from San Francisco day before yesterday, went to the Manhattan mill early this forenoon, and after surveying the premises for awhile, took an ax belonging to the Manhattan Company and started off. A man who had been watching him inquired what he wanted with the ax, when Cutleton answered that he wanted it for the purpose of killing a man who was hunting him, and before the interrogator could catch up Cutleton had disappeared. It seems that he was laboring under temporary insanity, and stopping in front of Mr. Dunham's residence he deliberately opened the front door which had been left unlocked, entered the parlor and advanced to the bed room where Mr. and Mrs. Dunham and children were sleeping. Fortunately, the bed-room was locked, and while he was trying to force his way, Mr. Dunham awoke and ask "who's there?" The intruder answered, "Me; let me in!" Before Mr. Dunham could get to the door, the man became impatient and began to pound away at the door with the ax and soon broke through. A terrible scuffle ensued between the men, and finally Dunham succeeded in getting the ax from Cutleton, at the same time asking his wife to go for help. Gentlemen soon came to the rescue and Cutleton was forced out of the house, and escorted as far as the Reveille office, when the crazy man broke loose and ran as far as the International Hotel. Arriving there he rushed behind the bar and asked Mr. Crescenzo to loan him a pistol as there was a man who wanted to kill him. Marshal Brennan with the help of Mr. Crescenzo and others, overpowered and arrested the insane man, and he is now locked in jail.

Run Over by the Train.

WADSWORTH, Nev., Nov. 26.—The 9 o'clock train coming in this evening ran over an intoxicated section man, cutting off his leg just below the hip joint. He is not expected to live till morning.

DAY MORNING, APRIL 29, 1876.

[illegible]

[illegible] OF FRAUD.—We are informed by [illegible] parties that the commission merchant [illegible] in the following from the San Francisco Post of April 19th is well known to many of Portland's business men and that [illegible] of his transactions with them have been [illegible] on his part by conduct not dissimilar to that with which he is charged by [illegible] Island Mills. The Post says: "O. [illegible] Island Mills, filed a complaint to-day in the Twelfth District Court against Gottlob Michler to recover $10,000. The complaint alleges that the defendant is a commission merchant in this city and the plaintiff was proprietor of the [illegible] Island Mills, in Colusa county. From [illegible] 1872 until January 1, 1876, the plaintiff continuously consigned to the defendant [illegible] quantities of flour, bran, etc., for sale on commission. In addition to the ordinary commission one-half per cent. was allowed that the defendant might make all his settlements with the plaintiff in gold coin. During the period mentioned, the plaintiff forwarded consignments to the defendant to the value of $120,000, but the latter, in order to cheat the former, sent him [illegible] accounts of sales, showing the prices received much less than they were, so that in [illegible] obtaining $120,000 the plaintiff has [illegible] received $100,000, which amount was [illegible] as the entire product of the goods [illegible]. For further cause of action the [illegible] alleges that the sacks were stamped [illegible] Mills," and the flour was the [illegible] and commanded the [illegible] price. In July, 1872, the plaintiff appointed the defendant his sole agent in San [illegible]. From that date to January last, [illegible] sold on commission for the former [illegible] barrels of flour, but to make money [illegible] of the reputation of the Grand [illegible] Mills flour, sold a lot of other flour in [illegible] the stamp of the Mills. This [illegible] of a very inferior quality, the reputation of the plaintiff's flour suffered seriously [illegible]. The loss on this count is [illegible] $10,000, and plaintiff claims that by [illegible] fraudulent acts of the defendant [illegible] further loss of $10,000, [illegible] $20,000 alleged to have been [illegible] on actual commission sales $40,000, for which judgment is prayed."

[illegible] IN CALIFORNIA.—A correspondent writing to an exchange from San Francisco, [illegible] a recent date, says: "The writer, [illegible] months of patent search and many days [illegible], has at last found a steady job [illegible] Messrs. Russell & McKinney, printers of [illegible] outsides for country newspapers. We [illegible] supplying forty-four, several of which [illegible] Oregon, and as the establishment is [illegible] large and well conducted, we could supply [illegible] many more. O'Meara is employed on [illegible] Chronicle, but in what capacity I [illegible] not. Hugh Small is in the business office of the Bulletin. Dr. Russell still [illegible] to sell pile medicine. Put Smith is [illegible] to enter once more upon the toe corn [illegible]. Maj. Cook is deep in stocks, and a [illegible] of other old Portlanders are doing [illegible] best they can. And, by the way, some [illegible] your readers will remember the notorious [illegible] Lamar, who kept a low down cellar [illegible] the Gambrinus; well, he is here on [illegible] street, apparently deeply interested in [illegible] mine—wild-cat of course. It is said that Senator Mitchell is interested with him; of this I have no positive information, but I [illegible] a source that leads me to suspect that there is some truth in it. That Mitchell is interested in some sort of stocks is known to me personally from his own mouth, but I [illegible] unable to learn the character until the other day, when the above story was told me."

INSPECTION OF THE O. C. R. R.—On the completion of the first 20 miles of the Oregon Central Railroad, it was inspected by the commissioners appointed by the government. It was the duty of the commissioners to inspect the road in behalf of the government, and formally accept of it, if the work was done according to the requirements. This was necessary before the claim of the company to the land grant could be made valid. The commissioners who inspected that portion of the [illegible] road were Messrs. E. K. Geary, T. A. [illegible] H. Fisk. When the road was [illegible] to the terminal point—St. Joseph, [illegible] from Portland, the last 22 miles [illegible] inspected by the commissioners, and [illegible] to the present time. We understand the commissioners, accompanied by Mr. Henry Villard, President and R. Koehler, Vice President of the Oregon and California [illegible], will pass over the westside [illegible] to-day, when the 22 miles will be [illegible] required, and if found satisfactory [illegible], be formally accepted on behalf of the government. A vacancy having occurred in the board of commissioners by reason of the death of Mr. T. A. Savier, C. H. [illegible], has been appointed to fill the [illegible].

[illegible] OPERATION.—A gentleman writing from Steilacoom under date of the 25th inst. [illegible] Dr. Ballard, formerly assistant physician of the Oregon Insane Asylum, and now [illegible] physician of the Washington Territory Hospital for the Insane, assisted by Dr. [illegible] of Steilacoom, performed a difficult surgical operation a few days ago upon a man who was afflicted with cancer on the under lip. The cancer had eaten away in a semicircular form almost the entire lip from both corners of the mouth, down to the apex of the chin. They took out the affected part, then [illegible] the flesh from under the chin in a [illegible] equal in width to the part taken out, they drew it up fully to the roots of the teeth [illegible] the lower jaw, thus producing a tolerably good lip. The operation was very skillfully and successfully performed. The patient is doing well, and under favorable circumstances will speedily recover."

[illegible] SOCIETY.—Thursday evening, at a meeting of the Father Mathew Society, it was determined to organize a company of cadets. The instructions given the cadets will be literary in character, and will finally end in military training. All applicants to cadetship must not be over 16 years of age, and the society will be under the direction of Mr. R. C. White. The first meeting of the cadets will be held next Thursday.

PORTLAND, MAY [illegible] 1876.

THEATRICAL AND OTHERWISE.

[illegible], Kohler and Waud were at Walla Walla on Thursday.

Amusements will be in order next month, two or more companies being on the way.

J. H. Russell, Charley Reed and Geo. Richardson are still with the Minstrels, San Francisco.

The Louis Bros. are to give an entertainment shortly, the proceeds to be placed in the Centennial fund.

Montgomery Queen's circus and menagerie will be in Oregon in October and will close the season in Portland on the 27th of that month.

Mr. M. Rosenblatt, the well known clothier, [illegible] Front street, has opened a well selected stock of clothing, which includes new styles [illegible] youths, all very attractive. Call on him.

BRIEF NOTES.

There is a letter at this office for "M. M."

Tobacco licenses will be due on the 1st of May.

Vegetation is springing—so are the festive bull-frogs.

Morrison street between Second and Third is being replanked.

A heavy warm spring shower fell yesterday afternoon and last evening.

Thirty-five tons of freight were brought down on the E. N. Cooke yesterday.

After the 1st of May the street cars will start ten minutes earlier in the morning than at present.

The Alice is the only steamer belonging to the O. S. S. Co. which is running on the upper Wallamet.

Mr. R. C. White will deliver a temperance lecture at Good Templar hall on the evening of May 12th.

Barney Trainor, an old resident of East Portland, died at his home yesterday morning, after a long illness.

The march of improvement moves steadily on. Buildings are in progress of construction in various parts of the city.

Peter Wilhelm of the "Fountain," had the misfortune to lose a highly prized dog at the Stark street ferry landing, by drowning.

Ladies will have to forego the gratification of wearing long trailing dresses until the weather clerk signifieth his approval of the same.

Hereafter the O. S. N. Co.'s boats will leave here for Astoria at 5 o'clock every morning (Sunday excepted.) The traveling public will take notice and govern themselves accordingly.

An invitation is extended by the members of the Grand Army of the Republic, to all soldiers, sailors and marines, to participate with them in the exercises and ceremonies of Memorial Day.

Mr. Sinnamon, superintendent of the Oregon Iron Works, met with a severe injury Thursday afternoon, by falling through the hatch from the upper to the lower deck of the new revenue cutter.

We overheard a gentleman using some superfluous expletives yesterday afternoon, simply because he had wandered away from home with silk plug, thin coat, and without rubbers or umbrella. Singular that some people get angry at trivial things.

Some Cromwell (perhaps), guiltless of his country's blood, was observed yesterday afternoon lying on one of the lower wharves, dead—drunk. Tranquilly he snoozed on, regardless of the pelting rain, little reckoning "whether school kept or not." How encouraging is such equanimity under unpleasant circumstances. Nothing like taking things cool.

BASE BALL NOTES.

The Arcadians are still unable to find a man for the catcher's position.

Carr, formerly captain of a California club, will catch for the Pioneers.

A few days more fine weather and the diamond field will be occupied and the bases filled.

It has not yet been officially announced as to who will compose the Pioneer and Arcadian nines.

Bobby Austin, the old first baseman of the Arcadians, is now right fielder of the Victoria nine. That club has been invited to come to the Centennial.

The Chicago's nine will have different colored caps, so that the spectators can distinguish them on the ball field, and each player will be designated on the score-cards by his colors.

Encouraging letters continue to come from Harry Wright, and everything promises that the "old man" will be in as good trim as any of the Boston boys when the time for the tussle arrives.

Two nines dressed in masquerade costumes lately played a game at San Francisco. They belonged to the Oates Comic Opera Troupe, and the novelty of the match attracted a large assemblage.

Henry Thompson, second baseman of the Pioneers, has gone East. After doing the Centennial and taking points from the great professional players, he will return in time to engage with his club in the home contests.

THE TURF.

The fleet footed animal, Tom Merry, owned by John Pennell, of Seattle, is now in the city, and will go into training for the Centennial races.

The running horses Doc Lindsay and Oregon, from Wasco county, have arrived in this city and will go up to Salem and into training for the Centennial races.

On the 6th of May there will be a 700 yards race at the trotting park, Walla Walla, between the horses Tom Benton and Billy Nuts, for $200 a side. As both are fast horses a fine race may be expected if it is a good day.

Budd Doble, the noted trainer and driver, went East about two weeks ago taking with him in his special car the following racers: Goldsmith Maid, Abe Edgerton, Sam Purdy, Ella Wright, Clementina and Rutherford. The flyers Joe Daniels, Springbok and Golden Gate were also taken East.

J. J. Welch, the well known trainer, went below yesterday on the steamer taking with him Eph Maynard and Belle of Portland. We understand that Mr. Welch goes below for the purpose of disposing of these animals, and that he will not return until a few weeks before the Centennial races.

Mr. Elliott has arrived from Seattle with the running horse John Boggs, which is a half brother to the celebrated pacer Thad Stevens. Mr. Elliott also brought Hambletonian, a trotter, from the same place. These animals will go into training at the East Portland race course for the Centennial races.

 Leader of fashion's sway,
Thou art my vision in the night,
 My happiness by day.
I hear thy praises everywhere,
 Thy beauties loudly sung.
Thy qualities and elegance
 Respond from every tongue.
But when I tell the little cost,
 Surprise o'ercomes them all,
Until I prove to them it came
 From the note! "Abbey" hall.

Kept by WILSON & SPECK, at 47 First street, where if you call you will be astonished at yourself for not calling there sooner for your fine cigars and smoking tobacco.

ODD FELLOWSHIP.

ADDRESS DELIVERED BY C. A. DOLPH, ESQ., AT THE ODD FELLOWS' RE-UNION IN THIS CITY ON THE EVENING OF APRIL 25, 1876.

Noble Grand, Brothers, Ladies and Gentlemen:

The institution of Odd Fellowship has no well authenticated claim to great antiquity, although some assert that the order flourished very early in the Christian era, and a few there have been to claim that it existed even among the ancients and is older than history itself, and many quaint and curious stories have been told us of its objects aims and influence among the people of the Old World, but much of this, though once perhaps believed, is now regarded as the fruits of imagination rather than having any foundation in point of fact; and yet there were Odd Fellows in those days, very giants in the principles of Friendship, Love and Truth. For the Scripture story tells not only how Jonathan's soul was knit to the soul of David, and how they covenanted each with the other in the bonds of Friendship and Love, but it also pictures to us the true Odd Fellow in the person of the poor Samaritan, who when the unfortunate traveler overtaken in his journey by thieves and assassins, lay wounded and dying, having received from his own countrymen nothing save looks of contemptuous scorn, as the priestly hypocrite passes by upon the other side—hears the moan of distress, coming even from an enemy, he, listening, stops. He comes to him, and binding up his wounds, pouring on them the soothing oil, and in his heart more soothing consolation, he takes him to an inn; nor does he leave him even now to the care of those who are bound to him by the ties of blood and country; but through that long dreary night, with that weak sufferer, one patient watcher still remains, and on the morrow, when compelled to leave his charge, as if even then reluctant still, to go away he promises to come again.

And so in every age, and among every people, where have been found men who, humbly acknowledging the existence of one God—the Teacher of us all—and so far rising above party and sect as to recognize in every man a brother, were willing to dedicate their energies to the cause of a common humanity, wherever they have lived and by whatever name they have been called, clothed in the rude garb of the Laplander, or the purple and fine linen of the court of kings, there have been Odd Fellows, indeed. Odd Fellows as good and true as those who, in the more enlightened intelligence of the present age, have knelt with us beside this self-same altar, and covenanted with us to live for the elevation of the character of man, and the promotion of good will among men.

But we commend American Odd Fellowship to him who seeks a field of usefulness, where he may unite with others in one concentrated effort to fraternize the world, not because of its antiquity, but the rather because it is of more modern origin, and hence the better adapted to the wants and conditions of the present age. Because its founders, when they laid the foundation whereon is now building this great superstructure, surveying the past, were the better enabled to avoid its errors, and looking into the nearer future, the better able to provide for the necessities of generations yet to come.

On the 30th day of July, 1817, Thomas Wildey, an English blacksmith, who had been an active Odd Fellow in the city of London, for more than thirteen years, attracted hither by the genius of our free institutions and republican form of government, left "Merry England" for this, our own loved America, arrived in the city of Baltimore in the following September, a stranger in a strange country, but as a field of labor the Odd Fellow knows no country save the whole earth, and in the dispensation of his charities he knows no countrymen save the whole family of man, and here we find our brother entering at once upon the active duties of the true Odd Fellow in relieving the distress of his fellow workmen, during the prevalence of that terrible scourge, the yellow fever, in the city of his adoption, through the summer of 1818. But he longed for the associations of the lodge room. He felt now, more than ever, the need of the co-operation of those around him, in this new field of labor, and within a few months of his arrival, having found in a fellow laborer by the name of Welch, a brother Odd Fellow, he conceived the idea of introducing the order into this country, and the forming of a lodge. And the result of a conference had between these two was the following, which they caused to be published for one month in the Baltimore American:

"NOTICE TO ALL ODD FELLOWS:

"A few members of the society of Odd Fellows will be glad to meet their brethren for consultation upon the subject of forming a lodge. The meeting will be held 2nd March, 1819." But it was not until the 13th of April following that a sufficient number of Odd Fellows could be found for the purpose indicated. On this date, at the house of brother Wildey, the preliminary arrangements were made for the formation of a lodge; and having fixed the time, the 26th of that same month—the day we celebrate—and the place, "The Seven Stars," they separated, joyous in the hope of soon meeting again within the walls of the lodge room; and on the day appointed they did meet, and duly instituted a lodge of Odd Fellows, to be known and hailed as Washington Lodge No. 1. And thus was planted the institution of Odd Fellowship upon American soil.

On the 22d day of February, 1821,—being the birthday of that illustrious personage after whom the parent lodge had been named, the Past Grands of the two only lodges then within the United States, assembled at the room of Washington Lodge, No. 1, and organized a Grand Lodge, hailed by the title of "The Most Worthy Grand Lodge of Maryland, and of the United States,—such Past Grands in every instance becoming officers of that august body, and one of them, more fortunate than his fellows, was the successful candidate for two positions, from all which we may infer that the election was a harmonious one, although the majorities by which these Grand officers were elected, must have been rather small.

On the 22d day of May, 1821, this Grand body held a quarterly session at the same place, in the proceedings of which, appears the first report submitted by the Right Worthy Grand Treasurer. This report shows the total receipts from all the lodges represented for the previous quarter, to be $11 36, and a grand total of Grand Lodge funds then in possession of its treasurer of but $14 71. For though the Order was now fully organized, its development was exceedingly slow. Although rich in all that goes to make true manhood, its founders were poor in this world's goods, and the object of their devotion was left to rise upon its own intrinsic excellence. But this is a progressive country, and the institution of Odd Fellowship is progressive in its character. In 1825 two new and exclusively American degrees, "covenant" and "remembrance," had been adopted, and Brother Wildey visited England for the purpose of obtaining a surrender of all claim of jurisdiction on the part of the order in England known as the Manchester Union. The object of his visit was accomplished, and since that time ours has been an independent order.

On the 19th of September, 1851, the Grand Lodge, passed a resolution adopting what is now known as the Degree of Rebecca, and thus woman with her warm and loving heart, and gentler hand, joined us in our labor of love.

But this occasion will not permit us to follow the order through the vicissitudes and triumphs of the successive years of its existence. Ever onward in its career, and never deviating from the true principles in which it was founded it has become a tower of strength in itself, and by its deeds of charity has won the admiration of the world.

The last report of the Grand Lodge of the United States shows (exclusive of ten new lodges instituted since September 1, 1874, from which there were no reports) within its jurisdiction 5,965 subordinate lodges, and 46 Grand bodies, with a membership in subordinates of 458,331, and including the membership of such new lodges and initiates since this report was made up, we have to-day a membership in subordinate lodges exceeding half a million. And the receipts of such subordinate lodges during the last lodge year, are shown to be in excess of four million dollars.

What an army warring against vice in all its forms! What a fund has been thus voluntarily laid upon the altar of benevolence and charity! How many weary hands have found rest through it, or how many sad hearts have been cheered by it, the world will never know, for the charities of the order, like its benedictions and its prayers, have fallen on the recipient as noiselessly as heaven distils its dew upon the earth beneath.

Such, my brethren, were the circumstances under which our order was established in this western world. Such has been its growth and prosperity since the day we yearly unite to celebrate. How humble the beginning, and yet from the room at the seven stars, where that little band of true Odd Fellows loved to meet in mutual council, has gone forth an influence conquering and to conquer. Following in the very van of civilization, it has penetrated the deepest recesses of the wilderness, and the heart of the pioneer has been awakened to a new and holier melody. From the icebergs of the North to the orange groves of the South, and to either ocean its votaries bow before its shrine; nor have the boundaries of our own country confined it. Like Noah's dove it is even now re*turning to the Old World*, bearing the olive branch of peace, taking up the strains of that celestial anthem "Glory be to God in the highest, on earth peace and good will to men,"—and teaching everywhere the grand principle of a universal fraternity in the family of man, it will yet still the storm and sooth the spirit of the passions of mankind until nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither learn war any more; but one law shall bind all nation's tongues and kindreds of the earth, and that law shall be the law of universal brotherhood; then

> "No more shall nation against nation rise,
> Nor ardent warriors look with hateful eyes,
> Nor field with gleaming steel be covered o'er
> And brazen trumpets kindle rage no more;
> Peace o'er the world her olive wand extend
> And white robed innocence from heaven descend.

But, my brethren, the founders of our order, with the memories of whom this day comes to us so richly laden, are all gone. They have pressed in death the pillow which in life they did so much to soften. Of them it may be truly said "they rest from their labors, and their works do follow them." But their mantles have fallen upon us. The work by them so well begun is left for us to carry on toward its completion. Their life work is indeed ended, but its influence still remains, and through it they still speak to us. The emblems which adorn this room are but their varied voices to admonish us to be faithful to our trust—to guard well the priceless charge transmitted to our keeping.

And how forcibly are we reminded, my brethren, that we too, in turn, must soon surrender up this heritage to those who shall come after us, for

> "We are not all here—
> Some are away; the dead ones dear.
> Fate with a stern, relentless hand
> Looked in and thinned our useful band."

Almost within the midst of these festivities comes the grim messenger, and takes one accustomed to sit with us within these walls. How recently he ministered in kindly actions to the living—now consigned to the narrow house, where we have laid him—he sleeps the sleep of death.

Let us heed well the lesson, and "So live that when our summons comes to join the innumerable caravan that moves to the pale realm of shade, where each shall take his chamber in the silent halls of death, we go not like the quarry slave scourged to his dungeon, but sustained and soothed by an unfaltering trust, approach our graves as those who wrap the drapery of their couch about them and lie down to pleasant dreams."

OREGON TRACT SOCIETY.

The regular annual meeting of the Oregon Tract Society will be held in Portland at the rooms of the Y. M. C. Ass'n, at 1 o'clock P. M., May 10th. Reports and business need attention. All members and friends are invited to attend.

G. H. ATKINSON,
Secretary.

Ladies will remember that there remains but two days more in which to obtain bargains at Simon Harris'. The balance remaining will be sold at auction on Monday, May 1st, at 1½ P. M.

The Iowa City Press traces back the fall of Belknap to the marriage of Grant's daughter, because she was not married in a calico dress and a gingham sun-bonnet. That has nothing to do with Beck & Waldman's immense stock of clothing.

Your spare funds invest in a lunch at Barnes', Central Market.

The greatest wonder of the world—a $12,000 "double calf"—is drawing immense houses to the Museum. It has seven legs, two bodies, etc. This evening a good orchestra will discourse sweet music. The entire day will be one grand matinee as this calf leaves very soon for Philadelphia.

Campbell & Co. scour, full and gig blankets; scour carpets, sea grass matting, wool, &c., by the same process as the factories. Scouring and fulling mill, head of Jefferson street, on Canyon creek. Leave orders at Powers' second-hand store, and Weeks & Morgan's grocery store, Third and Morrison.

Peter Wilhelm, at the "Fountain," First and Ash streets, keeps things in a cozy shape. His billiard tables are much admired and the new Virginius table is a great favorite. Call and see him.

McCafferty & Whittle, who have been connected with the Occidental hotel for years, have leased the dining room attached to that hotel. They keep an excellent table, employ affable attendants and charge moderate rates. Their friends and others will make a note of it and call.

Whisky is sometimes called the American vin du pays, but when it is crooked it becomes vin don't pays, and that is the reason that Noble Whisky pays as sold by H. Fleckenstein, 147 First street.

W. L. ADAMS, M. D., A. M., LL. D., corner of First and Salmon streets, is curing the most inveterate chronic diseases of all kinds at a low price, by medicated, electric lightning cream baths and by combining the German and French with the American improved practice, mixed with a little common sense. His treatment is, in the main, entirely original, and works almost miracles, as his numerous patients will attest. A lady always in the office to assist in treating women.

If you wish to learn how to make six dollars per day with name and address of parties making it, address W. F. Brayton, Oregon City.

Keep a full assortment, mark prices down and treat your customers civilly, and you can depend upon having a large patronage. This is just the way Kohn does, and the result is to be observed at any time by calling at his store. If you want something really very nice, call at Kohn's.

NOTICE.

Any business of mine, will be attended to by my son "Chas. F. Wightman," who will supply the "Wightman Process" to those suffering from Hemorrhoid or Piles, and diseases of the Rectum; his experience in the "Field Hospitals" of the "Fifteenth Army Corps," Gen. Sherman, during the whole of the late war, was probably greater than Surgeons have in a life time, out of the service. He will, no doubt, give every satisfaction to those needing his services as "Assistant Surgeon" or otherwise. Thanking the citizens of Portland, and elsewhere in the State, Idaho and Washington Territory, for their confidence and liberality. I hope our short acquaintance has been of great advantage to all. My address until further notice will be "San Francisco, Cal." In Portland, "Chas F. Wightman N. E. cor. Stark and Fourth street, P. O. box 247."

DR. T. F. WIGHTMAN.

NOTICE.

The undersigned in taking leave of Portland returns his sincere thanks for the liberal patronage that has been bestowed, and would bespeak for his successors a continuance of the same.

Both Drs. BARBER & NICKLIN are gentlemen in every way competent and worthy of any confidence that may be placed in them, and as such I can conscientiously recommend them to my former friends and patrons.

FIRE MENTIONS.

Only one fire alarm during the past week.

The telegraphic fire alarm apparatus is in splendid working order.

Two new signal lights are now on the way here for the hose carriages of Nos. 1 and 4.

Two new suctions have been ordered, and are now on the way here, for No. 2's old steamer and No. 4.

No. 4's engine will soon be laid up, temporarily, during which time she will be repainted, overhauled and placed in the best possible condition for the Centennial medal's.

Second assistant Murphy, of No. 4, has gone down the river and will be absent for about two months. Frank McCormick has been chosen to fill the vacancy during Murphy' absence.

A committee has been appointed by Protection Co. No. 4 to procure a flag-staff 40 feet high, and to raise the same above the engine house. The same committee is also instructed to obtain a suitable flag.

During the past week workmen have been engaged in overhauling No. 3's steamer. One of the stay bolts became loose, causing the boiler to slightly leak. The steamer is again in "tip-top" condition for active service.

At a special meeting held by Protection it was determined to accept the invitation to participate in the coming celebration. In order to appear in good trim, it was decided to send an order at once to New York for 75 hats and belts.

The new steam fire engine for Linn Engine Co. No. 2, at Albany, which was ordered from the east some time ago, is expected to arrive at its destination soon. The engine belongs to class No. 4, and is of Clapp & Jones' manufacture.

The members of Linn Engine Co. No. 2 propose to procure a new uniform for the Centennial (the boys have accepted the invitation and propose to help us celebrate), consisting of hats, belts and shirts. An order will be forwarded soon to New York for these articles, and they are expected to reach here in time.

STAR OF TRUTH.

BY MRS. WM. H. WETSELL.

Shine on thou Star of Truth, shine on,
 No dungeon is so dark tho' dense the gloom
But thy magnetic light will it illume,
 Thy devotee's chain unlink, consume.

Shine on thou wondrous Star, shine on,
 Upon the ashes of thy martyr's rest;
Till rising from their tomb the thought divine
 The soul of bigot interest.

Oh! Star that never sets 'tis thine
 Fair Science to invite with crucial test
So conscious, that thou'lt ever shine
 Obedient to her behest.

Shine on thou Star so pure, so clear,
 Thou art the eye of him whose heart is good
Oh! light intelligent, spread far and near
 Till all embrace his Fatherhood.

Philadelphia has not yet a population of a million, but expects to have while the Centennial runs. Of course there's millions in it, and coin is saved by purchasing goods at Fishel & Roberts'.

Removing Life's Heaviest Burden.

To remove the burden of disease, the heaviest that poor humanity is compelled to bear, is certainly a grand object, a glorious mission. Assuredly the discoverer of a remedy which accomplishes this result is entitled to the gratitude and respect of mankind. Such a remedy is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, whose great success is attributable to the fact that its restorative action upon the debilitated and disordered system is in accordance with the principles of common sense. It invigorates the sick, and, as the strength increases, the burden of disease grows lighter. It reforms those physical irregularities which render weakness chronic, and thus eradicates the evil at its very source. Liver, complaint, malarious fevers, constipation, urinary troubles, uterine weakness, and many other causes of general debility and ill health, are completely removed by the combined tonic and alterative operation of the Bitters.

Public Speakers and Singers will find "Brown's Bronchial Troches" beneficial in clearing the voice before speaking or singing, and relieving the throat after any exertion of the vocal organs. For Coughs and Colds the Troches are effectual.

BECAUSE A PERSON HAS A BAD COUGH it should not be inferred that Consumption has set in, although a case of Consumption is rarely met with unaccompanied by a distressing Cough. Where, however, a disposition to Pulmonary disease exists, a Cough, if left to itself, strains and racks the lungs, wastes the general strength, and soon establishes an incurable complaint. In all cases, then it is the safer plan to get rid of a Cough, Cold, or Hoarseness without delay, and for this purpose no remedy acts more promptly or surely, or with more benefit to the organs of the chest than Dr. D. Jayne's Expectorant.

THE TERRITORIES.

The Forest Queen arrived at Ludlow on Monday, having made the round to San Francisco in 17 days and 6 hours.

A new vessel was launched from Hammond's ways, at Port Ludlow last week. She was christened the Corsair.

The old mill at Port Gamble cut, on the 21st inst., in 12 working hours, 70,000 superficial feet of lumber, and in 24 hours 125,000 feet.

One hundred gallons of dog-fish oil in a clarified state have been shipped to Tumwater from the Burnt Point fishery, in Pierce county.

Henry Grumpecker was arrested at Walla Walla last week on a requisition issued by the governor of Oregon. He is charged with forgery in Union county.

Mr. Lang, a cattle buyer, is collecting a large band of stock on the Touchet. We understand he now has about 3,000 head together and wishes to swell the number to between 4,000 and 5,000.

While two young men were sinking a well near the Hungate ranch, on the Walla Walla, they came on the bones of an unknown species of animal, at the depth of twenty feet They were found under twelve feet of the hardest kind of cement.

The keel of the new light-draught steamer, about being built at Seattle for Messrs. Ben Stretch and others, was laid last week. It is expected that she will be launched by the first of July next, and will ply upon the waters of the Snohomish and its tributaries.

During the last week Postmaster Pumphrey of Seattle, issued 83 money orders, aggregating in amount $3,864 58. Of these orders, 1 was German, for $20; 3 British, for $50; 2 Canadian, for $60; and 77 domestic, for $2,725 58. This is the largest business of any one week yet done by the Seattle postoffice.

The plaintiff's counsel in the New World case, recently tried at Olympia, have prepared a bill of exceptions to the rulings of the court, and the case will probably take the same course as that of the Oregon Steam Navigation Co. vs. C. E. Hale et al. It will probably end in the supreme court of the United States.

The Mountaineer learns through E. B. Lockwood that the prospect for rich diggings over in Washington Territory are very good. He saw one piece of $70 taken from a placer mine. It is now in the possession of Mr. Boyd, of Yakima City, who has also some very fine specimens of rich quartz taken from regular defined ledges that are already recorded.

The Bellingham Bay Mail says Mrs. E. S. Tout, acting postmistress of this town, has in her possession a tea-cup, table cloth, two sheets and a coverlid that have been preserved among the relics in [illegible] family archives for over a hundred years. We have seen the cup, which looks as if it might have been in use in the cabin of the Mayflower during the famous tea-party in Boston harbor.

The object of the visit to Tacoma of the cutter Oliver Wolcott last Saturday, was to enable her officers to examine the ways there belonging to the Starr Brothers, with a view of hauling their vessel out of the water for repairs. The examination proved the ways to be quite sufficient for the purpose, and the Wolcott will probably soon be ordered there, as recommended by her officers.

The committee of arrangements on centennial celebration in Walla Walla, have made the following appointments to fill the various positions of honor on the occasion: P. B. Johnson to perform the duties of presiding officer, with Henry Cock as assistant. Judge Wingard will deliver the oration, and Judge Mix has been selected to read the Declaration of Independence. Capt. Gorman will marshal the procession.

The Olympian says: The dispute about the Maynard claim in the city of Seattle has been before the land office in this city for some time. A new element in the contest now appears. The city of Seattle made application to enter the land under the townsite law, and a letter from the commissioner was recently received directing the register and receiver to take testimony in the case. Notices were sent down for publication, and the case will come up for hearing sometime next June.

Bron Jones, a young man working in the Davies Camp, some twelve miles up Mill Creek, Walla Walla county, was accidentally shot in the arm on Monday last by his brother. Young Evans was on the wagon "whacking" an ox team at the time of the mishap, while his brother, who had been walking behind, carrying a shot-gun, came alongside to get on. In doing so the gun was discharged, planting most of the load in the back part of the driver's arm, between the elbow and the wrist.

A correspondent of the Transcript, writing from Nootsack valley, Whatcom county, under date of April 12th, says: On Nootsack river we have a good country, and the roads will compare with most roads, and all we need is plenty of good industrious settlers to make it a prosperous country. We have the land, and that which is good, and now we want an occupant for each and every section of land on Nootsack river. The land is easy to clear and the first crop will nearly pay for the clearing, and we would be happy to see a large colony come and make a home among us, and they will be welcome to such accommodations as a new country affords, and they will be shown cheerfully about the country; but they must not expect to find a farm cleared and fenced—if they do they will be sadly mistaken.

The Seattle Tribune, of April 27th, says: "The Port Gamble company bought most of the stuff offered for sale at Utsalady, more in value than all the others together. The bidders were many in number, representing nearly all the mills on the Sound, and many were persons whose purposes were unknown. Things went at a sacrifice, a little more than half what they were really worth, the Favorite bringing nearer its real worth, perhaps, than any other thing of any considerable value. The sale was continued all day yesterday, but the competition was becoming less; the Black Diamond, Blakely and Libby all coming up the Sound with their parties on board. The Blakely brought up the bark Brontes to Port Blakely, where she will be put in good condition, and from which place she will be hereafter employed. For the bark Onward, bought by the Bellingham Bay Coal Company, $3,300 were paid."

The Seattle Tribune says: "There seems to be a demand from California all of a sudden for Puget Sound lumber, and the mills are rushed with work. There are six vessels at Gamble, loading and waiting for lumber. One of the mills is broken down, and the other is being run night and day to its utmost capacity. The Port Madison mill started up night work a day or two ago. It has orders for weeks and weeks ahead; one of which alone is for a million and a half feet, on which a single stick only has so far been cut. A good deal of heavy timber is now being cut at Madison. The Northwest was yesterday taking in fifteen sticks each 106 feet long and squaring 15 inches. The mill has also been cutting a number of pieces of heavy timber 27x41 inches and 42 feet long, each stick containing between three and four thousand feet. They were for one of the Virginia City (Nevada) silver mining companies, and will be taken by the cars from the vessel's side to their place of destination, three or four hundred miles distant. Since filling this order it has been duplicated for another company at the same place."

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Quite a number of men are gathering in Victoria, intending to start for the Cassiar gold mines on the California.

The raffle fever has crossed the line from Washington Territory to British Columbia, and the Victorians have it slightly.

The Stikine river is still frozen, and great quantities of snow at Fort Wrangel and other points. The pack animals are all doing well.

The ship Itaska, Capt. Cotton, which left Burrard Inlet some days ago, took away one of the largest cargoes ever shipped from that port—1,200,000 feet.

The Colonist says Muirhead & Mann are constructing a large caisson for Mr. Spence, to be used in raising the fragments of Beaver rock from their watery bed.

The Dominion steamer Sir James Douglas returned to port yesterday from a trip with supplies to Point Atkinson lighthouse, Fraser river lightship, New Westminster and Nanaimo.

A correspondent writes to say that the settlers at the upper end of Sumas are placed under great inconvenience in relation to their letters. They are some distance from the postoffice, which is at the steamboat landing, and in order to have their letters delivered at their end of the settlement they are compelled to pay fifty cents each.

The aspect of business affairs in local circles exhibits nothing new or specially important. There is reported to be an ample supply of capital in the market available as loans, and that outside of a moderate volume in the demand for short time accommodations from trades people who need help to bridge over the dull season, there is no general inquiry. Rates have fluctuated but little during the month past and, if anything, are rather easier than at the close of last month.

The return of the regular monthly collection day develops the fact that a good deal of silver has been put on the market since the month began and though there will necessarily be some inconvenience and loss nearly all business men still refrain from making any arbitrary rule in regard to the matter.

In trade affairs there are no special changes to note. The business incident to the spring season is gradually assuming average proportions and settled fair weather would do much to add to activity to all branches of trade.

Domestic products are in fair demand at good prices barring the very sluggish movement in breadstuffs and the decline in the market for hides and wool before noticed.

The Silver Question.

NEW YORK, April 29.—The Times says the latest tendencies show it to be especially true as regards the working of silver coins into country towns and places removed from the cities. The trouble comes right here, that it may take some $10,000,000 to satisfy the demands of the people, who seek new silver coin as a curiosity because there is a braided piece paid out. The banks of Washington are paying one per cent. premium for fractional currency, because their customers come in and want silver or change to hand pompously over the counter. There is no danger that there will be any scarcity of silver for any redemption of fractional currency, because there are $42,000,000 outstanding, of which ten or twelve million, perhaps, will be floating around for some time. There is only the danger of hoarding, but this is incident to any change in the system of paper money back to a coin system.

Boston Wool Market.

BOSTON, April 29.—The wool market continues dull; prices are still settling, and holders find it impossible to place any considerable amount of wool except at low and unsatisfactory rates. Arrivals of new California are small as yet; sales of new spring principally at 19@23c; some choice lots of new and old spring sold at 27@29c, but they are very extreme prices, and not over 26@28c is likely to be realized for most desirable lots of spring wool; sales of week 280,000 lbs, 19@29c for spring; 16@20c for fall fleeces. Wool moves slowly and sales have been at lower prices than at any time in 10 years. Transactions include 800,000 lbs Ohio and Pennsylvania fleeces at 40@48; small lot XXX selling at 48c; XX in good condition at 44c down to 41½c, for an outside lot 15,000 lbs from a neighboring market; we quote Ohio at 40@42; XX and Michigan grades 42a44c. Price is now at outside figure, and 46@48 for XXX and pick lots; sales of Michigan fleece 35@36, and Michigan and Wisconsin fleeces cannot be quoted at over 35@37. These prices are from 12c to 14c lower than at this time last year. Combing wools are as dull as any kind, and are now 8c to 12c under the highest point some months ago. Sales of unwashed at 28@45c; washed at 54c; pulled wools quiet and dull, with large stock; best Maine super could not be placed at 48c; very good lines of super sold at 35@40. Sales of week 132,000 lbs at 28@48c for super and X.

London Stock Exchange.

At stock exchange Consols have gained ⅜ on the week. English railway securities have been excited with numerous and marked fluctuations. The forced closing of the accounts of four bankrupt brokers has occasioned a serious decline in some stocks. Traffic returns were almost all very disappointing and the week's operation show a general and important fall. Canadian issues are heavy at an important reduction.

In the market for foreign securities there has been an almost general advance in prices. Spanish, however, have declined 1 to 1¼, owing to the budget proposals being unfavorably regarded. Some Egyptian and Mexican are slightly lower. All other movements were in an upward direction. South American show the most decided improvement. Austria, Hungarian and Russians have been in good demand. Turkish are from ¼ to 1 higher. American government securities are all better; but Erie shares and bonds are flat at general and marked reduction. To-day changes have been few and mostly in an upward direction. Discount was firmer in consequence of unfavorable tendency of foreign exchanges; but prices were unimproved and the demand inconsiderable. Five failures have occurred on exchange during this settlement.

POND'S EXTRACT

"Hear, for I will speak of excellent things."

POND'S EXTRACT—The great Vegetable Pain Destroyer. Has been in use over thirty years, and for cleanliness and prompt curative virtues cannot be excelled.

CHILDREN. No family can afford to be without Pond's Extract. Accidents, Bruises, Contusions, Cuts, Sprains, are relieved almost instantly by external application. Promptly relieves pains of Burns, Scalds, Excoriations, Chafings, Old Sores, Boils, Felons, Corns, etc. Arrests inflammation, reduces swellings, stops bleeding, removes discoloration and heals rapidly.

FEMALE WEAKNESSES. It always relieves pain in the back and loins, fullness and pressing pain in the head, nausea, vertigo.

IN LEUCORRHŒA it has no equal. All kinds of ulcerations to which ladies are subject are promptly cured. Fuller details in book accompanying each bottle.

PILES—blind or bleeding—meet prompt relief and ready cure. No case, however chronic or obstinate, can long resist its regular use.

VARICOSE VEINS. It is the only sure cure.

KIDNEY DISEASES. It has no equal for permanent cure.

BLEEDING from any cause. For this it is a specific. It has saved hundreds of lives when all other remedies failed to arrest bleeding from nose, stomach, lungs, and elsewhere.

TOOTHACHE, Earache, Neuralgia and Rheumatism are all alike relieved, and often permanently cured.

PHYSICIANS of all schools who are acquainted with Pond's Extract of Witch Hazel recommend it in their practice. We have letters of commendation from hundreds of Physicians, many of whom order it for use in their own practice. In addition to the foregoing, they order its use for Swellings of all kinds, Quinsy, Sore Throat, Inflamed Tonsils, simple and chronic Diarrhœa, Catarrh (for which it is a specific), Chilblains, Frosted Feet, Stings of Insects, Musquitoes, etc., Chapped Hands, Face, and indeed all manner of skin diseases.

TOILET USE. Removes Soreness, Roughness and Smarting; heals Cuts, Eruptions and Pimples. It revives, invigorates and refreshes, while wonderfully improving the Complexion.

TO FARMERS—Pond's Extract. No Stock Breeder, no Livery Man can afford to be without it. It is used by all the leading Livery Stables, Street Railroads and first Horsemen in New York City. It has no equal for Sprains, Harness or Saddle Chafings, Stiffness, Scratches, Swellings, Cuts, Lacerations, Bleedings, Pneumonia, Colic, Diarrhœa, Chills, Colds, &c. Its range of action is wide, and the relief it affords is so prompt that it is invaluable in every Farm-yard as well as in every Farm-house. Let it be tried once, and you will never be without it.

CAUTION! Pond's Extract has been imitated. The genuine article has the words Pond's Extract blown in each bottle. It is prepared by the only persons living who ever knew how to prepare it properly. Refuse all other preparations of Witch Hazel. This is the only article used by Physicians, and in the hospitals of this country and Europe.

The Daily Oregonian.

MONDAY MORNING, NOV. 27, 1876.

OREGON.

The first boat of the season reached Lafayette on Tuesday of last week.

G. B. Riggs has purchased the mail route between Dallas and Salem of James Logan.

Seven thousand six hundred sacks of wheat were shipped from Dayton in one day last week.

Six thousand shares of the Esther Mining Company were sold in Roseburg on Wednesday last.

The Polk county Telegram has been revived by Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wheeler, who will change its name to the Polk county Tribune.

The State papers have been wrongfully informed of the condition of the South Umpqua river. It has scarcely been past fording yet.

Mr. David Bushey, of Douglas county, has about sixty acres of a wheat field in which the grain is at least two inches in height and growing finely.

The Indians camped near Dallas have most emphatically warned some of the whites not to enter their camp again, and threaten to "make it hot" for them if they don't heed the warning.

The Dallas town treasurer's report shows that since Jan. 1, 1876, he has received from all sources $207 83, and paid out since that time $255 43, leaving a balance in the treasury of $11 90.

The first "case" under the new liquor law was tried in Columbia county last week. The witness, when asked what he was doing in the saloon, replied that he went in to change his breath. That settled the question.

The Pioneers of Southern Oregon organized at Jacksonville last week. Permanent officers were put in nomination and elected, as follows: John E. Ross, president; Wm. Hoffman, secretary; U. S. Hayden, treasurer.

The new board of town trustees of Dallas were duly inducted into their offices, with the recorder and marshal elect, last Wednesday evening. Ed. Casey was elected president of the board; J. T. Wortley, town treasurer.

A memorial of the Anti-Chinese Union Club is in circulation throughout Oregon and Washington Territory. Any person receiving such memorial is requested to canvass for names and return the same to the club at Astoria.

A correspondent writing from Hillsboro, says: "The city charter was adopted by a vote of 39 to 10. An irate sport who has a brass watch bet on the Presidential result, attempted to settle the matter by voting for 'Hayes and Wheeler.'"

Mr. Hulbert sends the Plaindealer another fine specimen of Indian corn this week, which he says grew in a field which made a yield of 70 bushels per acre this year. The ear in question is 10 inches long and has 20 rows of grains all well filled.

Three large [illegible], weighing about 800 pounds each, left the depot at Roseburg on a freight team for the Esther mine on the 22d. This company is quietly making extensive substantial improvements, and the mine is being placed on a paying basis.

Drain's Station is making rapid growth, and Roseburg may well begin to look with jealous eyes at its fast increasing proportions. The new mill is an ornament to the place and a good investment for the owners, besides a convenience to the country around.

From the Christian Messenger we learn that the meeting announced to take place at Monmouth not long since was a decided success, and [illegible] prevailed, and a [illegible] was [illegible] tributed to pay off the indebtedness of Christian College.

Notwithstanding the stringency of the new [illegible], a little game of draw poker was indulged in at Roseburg on Thursday evening in one of the saloons in that city. The poker was drawn from under the stove, and was used to hit a man over the head with.

Lakeville, Polk county, has now 2 stores, 2 blacksmith shops, 1 wagon shop, 1 drug store, [illegible] hotel, 1 boot factory, 1 furniture factory, 1 hotel, 1 physician and surgeon, 1 barber, 2 professors of music and 1 dancing master; also a Grange and a lodge of I. O. O. F.

The Dallas Itemizer says: There are several cases of typhoid fever in the country. There are nine cases in John Burden's family, at Sheridan, and five in that of Thomas Hendricks, near Amity. Several of these are considered critical. One person has already died with it in Mr. Burden's family.

The Eugene Journal says: Five cases of varioloid are reported this week on Spencer creek, at what is known as the "old Hadley place." The parties affected are Marion Hamilton and wife, Jno. Hedges and two in family. When they contracted the contagion or where [illegible] have been absent from this county for several [illegible].

The Dallas Itemizer says: "One day last week a man by the name of Jones, who has been in the employ of D. J. Holmes, rode off one of Mr. Holmes' horses and has not yet put in an appearance. It is concluded that he has stolen the horse. He borrowed a gun of Ben Hayden, and pawned it for money at Lafayette. He also pawned some clothes at George Fairchilds' store for money. When last seen he was in Salem."

Mrs. James Higgins, of Spring valley, was brought before Judge Truett, of Polk county, with, and adjudged insane by the court after due examination of the case. Mrs. Higgins was just married last spring, and is only twenty years of age. But a few months ago she was to all appearances as bright and intelligent as anybody. About two months ago it was noticed that her memory was failing her, and she soon became very listless. She has attempted several times to commit suicide. [illegible] always was parental.

The Roseburg Independent says: A son of Mr. A. A. Matthews, about 10 years of age, is sorely afflicted with a spasmodic action of the system. Four weeks ago he became troubled in his sleep, and would wake up with a start, and so thoroughly frightened, that he could not be quieted until his parents would go to him and soothe him again to rest. This condition underwent no change until about a week ago, when the boy was taken with a fit, during which he was seized with an irresistible desire to bite something or somebody. These fits continued at regular intervals until Thursday, and during one of them, failing to [illegible], the boy caught the edge of the pillow on which he had been sleeping and shook it as though he desired to tear it into shreds. Thursday, a slight change for the better was noticed in the boy's condition, but at last accounts he was far from recovered.

From the Independent: A letter received from Mr. I. N. Muncy, superintendent of the Tellurium Mining Company, dated Canyonville, November 22d, contains the following in regard to the progress of work: Thinking that those interested in the Tellurium quartz mine would like to hear how we are getting on with the work in the mine, and as they are all patrons of your valuable paper, I have thought best to write you, as it will save me much time and writing. We are running night and day with three shifts, sinking a shaft. We are now down about 50 feet. Water has been coming in very fast for several days past, and has been running in at the rate of 100 gallons per hour. For two days it ran in at the rate of 120 gallons per hour. We have been getting out some rich ore—as rich as ever taken from the ground, to be called ore at all, and as we go down the ore increases in richness, the last ore being the best. The ore contains gold, silver and copper.

THE TERRITORIES.

Irving Ballard has been chosen city clerk of Seattle vice Wm. Inman resigned.

Jos. E. Goodwin, aged 36, cook on the steamer Yakima, was drowned at Port Gamble last week.

Merchants of Vancouver are paying 33 cents for eggs, 30 cents for butter, 3½ cents for potatoes, and cheese 16 cents.

The district attorneys elected in Idaho are 1st district, Jas. W. Poe; 2d district, George Ainslie; 3d district, F. Ensign.

Mr. James Power, editor of the Bellingham Bay Mail, has received the appointment of Inspector of Customs at Whatcom.

Idaho, Montana, Oregon, Arizona and New Mexico together, are turning out each day $20,000 in gold, $17,000 in silver, and $1,500 in base metal, giving a total of $38,500 each day, or $11,500,000 annually.

Utah is ahead of Idaho in some respects. In the southern section of that Territory they have recently found geese eggs that assayed $8,000 per ton in silver. One nest filled with eggs in a petrified state, all assaying largely in silver, is reported to have created much excitement.

The Dakota sailed from Seattle for San Francisco with a cargo of 1,450 bales of hops, 322 sacks of oats, 22 boxes of hides, three bales of wool, two cases cigars, 40 empty kegs and 29 packages of merchandise.

The Olympian says: McAllister's Lake is now the resort of sportsmen and disciples of Ike Walton. On last Wednesday a party returned from the lake, after a day's fishing, with 131 salmon trout of a superior quality.

Seven Chinese prostitutes were bonded over in the sum of $500 each by Justice Smith, at Seattle last week, to answer for their crime at the next term of the district court. Warrants were issued against as many others, but they could not be found.

In a hotel in Wyoming the following notice is posted: "All travelers on their arrival will be entitled gratis to a bath with friction and special lotions. These lotions will guarantee the traveler perfect immunity from the numerous insects that infest the house."

The Independent says: "While Olympia, The Dalles, Astoria, and other towns in the country are afflicted with typhoid fever, Vancouver boasts of exemption from this and other kindred ills. The town is enjoying as high a degree of health as ever before. The smallpox cases are all cured, and sufficient time has elapsed to render new cases improbable."

The Seattle Tribune says: The twelve men who went from here to Seabeck to man the new ship Cassandra Adams, were a pretty rough set, and proved very quarrelsome, troublesome passengers. Before getting to the mill they endeavored to clean out the steamer, but as there was a number of muscular gentlemen on board they failed, and each got a sound drubbing instead. One of them got his jaw broken, and three were so badly bunged up as to be unable to ship, so that but nine of the men got off.

Mr. Sidney Smith and another man from Shoalwater Bay recently started to cross over from Chehalis Point to North Point in a canoe at high water, but about the time they got half way across, the tide was ebbing so strong that it took them out to sea stern first, and they paddling for land. They could see the Light at Toke's Point for about five hours. When the tide turned to flood they came back all right, except filling the canoe on the outside spit. When they were off McGee's, the man who was with Mr. Smith wanted to swim ashore through the breakers, but Mr. Smith would not let him. They were nearly perished, having been out nearly all night.

Legal Tenders in Portland—buying 90½; selling 91½.

Silver—Trade dollars, 95c; other coins, 95@96c.

Business matters generally maintain a brisk appearance, and with encouraging prices for domestic products, the outlook for trade interests is not without a great deal of cheerfulness in its aspects. The late advance in breadstuffs is fully sustained, and the tendency still rather upward than otherwise. For sound lots of choice wheat alongside we are informed that $1 70 is paid, and as the amount of tonnage at hand is large, the movement is very brisk. Receipts by boats and rail during the week now at its close have been unusually large. A number of vessels now loading will get off in the next ten days, but others are ready to take the vacated berths.

OBJECTS.

This Savings Bank has been formed at the desire and under the auspices of thirty-one gentlemen, citizens of Oregon and Washington Territory who have become stockholders therein along with certain other gentlemen in Scotland to supply a want hitherto much felt, namely an Institution where smaller to those in California, the working farming and other classes of Oregon and Washington Territory may from time to time deposit their various savings along with the Bank's own capital for investment in Oregon and Washington Territory (to which the Bank's operations are limited) secured from Mortgages over City Properties, Farming and other Lands for the purpose thereby of assisting to develop the industries of the North Pacific Coast.

The Bank's Directors and Officers in Oregon having had considerable experience in finance and real estate securities, their policy will be to guard depositors' moneys and the stockholders' capital by loaning only on first class securities, high interest being a secondary consideration. The Bank does not therefore seek to employ its funds in a commercial banking business, confining its operations strictly to those securities with which its Directors are familiarly acquainted, such as real estate loans, advances on bonds, assignments and similar securities which are not fluctuating in value; hence no loans will be made on Promissory Notes alone, or Bills of Exchange and such like.

Security to Depositors.

The security for repayment of Depositors' moneys is two fold:

1st. Not only the mortgages, assignments, bonds and other pledges on which the Bank's deposits are carefully loaned and the real estate secured thereby, which must be located in Oregon and Washington Territory: but also,

2d. The Bank's own $300,000 capital specially pledged for the safety of depositors, in order that all losses (if any) shall be made therefrom, thus forming a double security for depositors' moneys.

No charge for entrance fee or pass books.

Deposits received from $2 50 and upwards.

Rates of interest on application.

Hours, from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Certificate of Incorporation, Constitution, Articles of Association, Regulations and By laws for depositors, may be seen at the Bank's office.
